

IIGCC Corporate Programme: Shareholder Resolutions Sub-Group

As a development of its Corporate Programme IIGCC has formed a new 'sub-group' to incorporate the selective use of institutional quality shareholder resolutions as part of meaningful and effective global investor dialogue with high impact European companies

The IIGCC Shareholder Resolutions Sub-Group, to be chaired by Helen Wildsmith of CCLA, will complement work of the wider IIGCC Corporate Programme including that led by the Collaborative Engagement Sub-Group - which will continue to be chaired by Stephanie Maier of Aviva Investors and lead corporate engagement work informed by the Investor Expectation Guides for corporate climate risk management published by IIGCC and its partners in the Global Investor Coalition.

To complement and enhance the work of the IIGCC Corporate Programme and its Collaborative Engagement sub-group the new Shareholder Resolutions sub-group will:

- Support the preparation of Annual General Meeting (AGM) statements about the successful 'Strategic Resilience for 2035 and beyond' resolutions filed previously by a number of IIGCC members with support from an independent coalition known as 'Aiming for A', which was launched by CCLA in 2012. Other IIGCC members within the coalition over the recent co-filing period were the Church of England National Investing Bodies, the Central Finance Board of the Methodist Church, Hermes Equity Ownership Services, Rathbone Greenbank Investment, Sarasin & Partners and The Pensions Trust.
- Co-ordinate future work by some IIGCC members to write and file any new European resolutions concerned with strategic resilience and/or corporate lobbying. Including liaising with Ceres' Investor Network on Climate Risk in this area for the US.
- Enable more co-ordinated voting activity by interested IIGCC members.

As a result of these changes 'Aiming for A' will cease to exist as a self-standing initiative and all its activities will now be conducted through the IIGCC Corporate Programme. During a transitional period a representative from the Local Authority Pension Fund Forum will attend the new sub-group, given their leading role in establishing 'Aiming for A' in 2011/12.
